

Re: Independent boarding education for intelligent boys with Dyslexia, attention-deficit, or language-processing weaknesses, at More House School, Frensham

Prep schools provide a supportive environment for many intelligent boys who are unlikely to demonstrate their full potential in the face of the Eleven-plus or Common Entrance papers, due to difficulties associated with literacy, language-processing, attention-deficit and gross or fine motor-skills.

With more than 80 years' experience, More House School offers exceptional weekly and full-boarding education, enabling such boys to transform their futures, achieving impressive outcomes at GCSE and A Level, consistently above the national averages, and enabling a majority to progress to university.

Boarding pupils enjoy modern residential accommodation set in the 30-acre grounds of the school's site, complemented by impressive facilities and resources, within the Surrey Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. Specialist therapeutic intervention, including Speech & Language Therapy, Occupational Therapy and Literacy tuition, is integrated into a very rich, mainstream academic curriculum and extra-curricular provision. Every subject-specialist class-teacher is trained to address pupils' SEND needs in every classroom. In addition to GCSE English, Mathematics and Science, pupils choose their non-core GCSE and equivalent courses from more than 20 subjects offered, accessing specialist facilities and enabling them to pursue their natural strengths and interests. There is a similar number of subjects offered within the Sixth Form.

More House School is graded Outstanding (Ofsted 2019 and 2020) in every aspect of the provision and, although a renowned independent school, some boarders' places are supported through funding from their local education authority or from the Ministry of Defence.

I have much pleasure in enclosing further information, which I hope is useful to you, and which I invite you to share with your SENDCo and with any other interested parties. I would be delighted to welcome you or any colleague to More House School should you wish an opportunity to visit. Virtual meetings and telephone conversations are also possible. Please do not hesitate to contact me if I can provide any further detail.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Jonathan C. Hetherington BA (Hons) MSc (Ed) QTS
